1. REQUEST FOR NOMINATIONS: LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM 2019-2020

Academic Affairs is pleased to open the call for nominations for the 2019-2020 UC Davis Faculty Leadership Academy (FLA). This workshop series is designed for faculty with tenure or security of employment who have demonstrated the potential for leadership and aspire to join the ranks of academic leadership. The FLA (formerly known as the Leadership Development Program) was first launched in 2001-02, and many of our current campus leaders have participated in past academies.

The curriculum is focused on exploring different styles of leadership and developing attributes and skills that are critical for strong campus leaders. These include effective communication, the ability to develop and articulate a vision for one's department or center, capable management of difficult conversations and behaviors, and conflict resolution. We believe that this program provides a unique opportunity for participants to develop strong connections to the overall mission of the University. For more information click HERE.

5. CALL FOR APPLICATIONS FOR THE 2019-2021 INTERPROFESSIONAL TEACHING SCHOLARS PROGRAM

UC Davis faculty from all health-related disciplines and academic series are invited to apply for the Interprofessional Teaching Scholars Program (ITSP), an innovative interprofessional faculty development program that promotes the development of educational scholars, change agents and leaders at UC Davis. The two-year program enables scholars to identify and develop an educational project in the first year (2019-20) and complete the project with continued mentoring in the second year (2020-21). In the first year, participants attend approximately 30 in-person, three-hour seminars held on Thursday afternoons between October and June. A commitment of approximately five hours for each of these sessions is required. During the second year, the time commitment shifts to enable scholars to complete their projects with continued support from program mentors. Participants schedule periodic check-in meetings and present their project at the end of the year.
